Focus

Youth and children across institutions

Our team of seasoned young men and women has explored and excelled through diverse realms of academia, SDGs championing, human rights, noble leadership, debate, godliness, and community development, nationally and internationally. For example; We are part of the UNDP-Uganda Youth Working Group on Biodiversity and Climate Change that did consultations and capacity building of youth across the country, and developed a youth position paper to the Conference of the Parties (COP 28 and 29).

We also actively contributed to the Youth Dialogue on Climate Change organized by UNDP, Ministry of Water and Environment and GIZ (Also performed several poems) in 2023 and 2024. With the National Coalition of Human Rights Defenders and Defend Defenders-Uganda, we have actively contributed to CSO stakeholders' forum on the Universal Periodic Review of Human Rights '22, the International Human Rights Defenders' Day 2021, 2022,2023, and won an award as one of the Most Outstanding Human Rights Defenders nationally in 2023 and 2024. Our engagements also pertain further to the Argo Open International Debate Championship in Romania Sept 2016, the Annual National Schools Debate Championship at Parliament of Uganda by National Debate Council, Africa Youth Leadership Forum, the Annual Human Rights Defenders Forum by Human Rights Centre 2019, UN International Day In Support of Victims of Torture 2018, 2019 and 2023 by African Centre for Treatment and Rehabilitation of Torture Victims(ACTV) and Uganda Human Rights Commission, Youth Debate and Literary Championships and expeditions by Thenuel debate and Literary Fronesis from 2015 to date, among others.

Our organization has strongly engaged with young people in schools across the country, and the Child Development Centres of Compassion International-Uganda in the regions, positively changing lives and fostering a nostalgic impact. We have planted Debate and Literacy Clubs in some of these Child Development Centre projects for outreach purposes.

We also engage in a radio talk show program called The Youth Magazine/Gang every Sunday, covering critical socio-economic issues such as Climate Action, the general subject of SDGs, human rights, integrity, domestic violence, education, and more, and reaching thousands of listeners through our partnership with Mama Bukedea FM and 94.7 Radio Continental FM-Kumi, Uganda Catholic Television and others.

We also actively contributed to the Youth Dialogue on Climate Change organized by UNDP, Ministry of Water and Environment and GIZ, and actively contributed to the 2024 Annual SDG Run championed by Youth Go-green in partnership with NBS TV, UNDP and several partners. With the National Coalition of Human Rights Defenders and Defend Defenders-Uganda, we have actively contributed to CSO stakeholders forum on the Universal Periodic Review of Human Rights '22, the International Human Rights Defenders' Day 2021, 2022, 2023, and won an award as one of the Most Outstanding Human Rights Defenders nationally in 2023.

We've directed and performed numerous poems, dramas, and debate sessions with children and youth of Schools and Child Development Centres, women, and youth of many child and youth institutions. We are a leader in human rights advocacy as a vibrant member of both the National Coalition of Human Rights Defenders and The Human Rights Centre and several other relevant coalitions and consortiums

Our tireless efforts have trained and engaged over 50,000 youths and children on Sustainable Development Goals and other matters of socio-economic importance. These efforts have extended to secondary and primary schools and universities, with Debate and Literacy Clubs planted in some of these institutions for outreach purposes and sustainability.

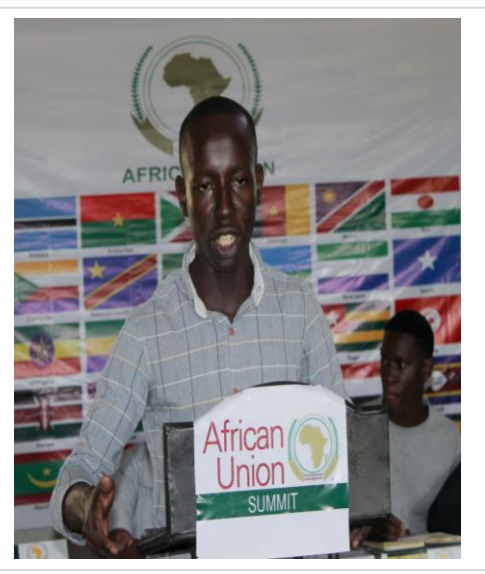

We have also partnered with several potential organizations and coalitions and institutions toward a common good of human rights sensitization and positive transformation of various communities in Uganda. For example; Compassion International Uganda, United Nations Development program-Uganda, Uganda National Commission for UNESCO of which we are an internationally recognized UNESCO Club, the Kingdom of Buganda, British Council of Uganda, National Coalition for Human Rights Defenders, Balaji East Africa Ltd, the NewVision Uganda the Universal Periodic Review Process, Malera Unification Foundation, Uganda Youth Alliance for Family Planning and Reproductive Health (UYAFPAH), HallNation Foundation for the Deaf, Uganda Coalition for SDGs at the Prime Minister's Office, Project, Sugur Development Agency-SUDA, Kumi P.AG, Kumi Human Rights Initiative, Public Affairs Centre, Radio Continental, Cornerstone Development, Kumi University, Kumi Christian Visionary School, Coalition Against Torture, Kumi Child Development Centre, Bukedea Child Development Centre, Deliverance Church Soroti Child Development Centre, Soroti Child Development Centre, Kwarikwar Child Development Centre, Atutur Child Development Centre, Phenomenal Women of Geneva among others.

In 2022, we launched an annual event called YOUTH DEBATE AND LITERARY CHAMPIONSHIP themed; “Championing Sustainable Development Goals, Stewarding God’s creation.” It was an event that attracted several youth and children from schools, Child Development Centres and other institutions to come and battle cognitively and intellectually for grand prizes in Debate and Literary works (Poetry, Quiz, Drama, Writing). This event was inaugurally hosted at Bukedea Comprehensive School in Bukedea, where we had the Speaker of Parliament alongside other Guests of Honour, as the Chief Guest

In May 2023, we had the second edition of this event hosted at Kitante Hill School-Kampala which attracted hundreds youth and children from Child Development Centres of Compassion and Schools countrywide; themed; “Strengthening Good health and well-being, Accelerating Climate action” We had the Youth and Innovations Program Officer of United Nations Development Program- Uganda -Ms. Mercy Melody Kayodi as the Chief Guest of the Opening Ceremony with whom we launched a tree planting campaign, by planting a few trees around the school to combat Climate Change. We also had the Senior Regional Director of Program – Compassion International Africa-Mr. Lenny Mugisha, among other important guests, as the Chief Guest of the Grand finale. With him, we discussed how we can stretch the scope of the SDG mandate to all the Child Development Centres all over the country-assisted by Compassion International Uganda.

In 2024, following comprehensive regional training sessions and targeted engagement initiatives focusing on climate change, the Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs), adaptation strategies, mitigation efforts, and innovative practices all aimed to combat climate change, we culminated our efforts with a national championship held at Kyambogo College School. This event was orchestrated in collaboration with esteemed partners such as Compassion International Uganda, Malera Unification Foundation, NewVision, and Bukedde TV, alongside various other stakeholders. The theme of the championship, “Fostering Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation Innovations and Technologies,” resonated deeply with the attendees, particularly the youth.

The impact of this initiative on the youth was both tangible and transformative. Participants left the championship equipped with enhanced knowledge and practical skills, fostering a greater understanding of climate challenges and the vital role they can play in addressing them. Inspirational key speakers, including Mercy Melody Kayodi, the Youth and Innovation Programme Officer at UNDP Uganda, and Emmanuel Ahimbisibwe, the National Director of Compassion International Uganda, shared their insights and experiences, igniting a sense of possibility among the young audience. The stories and advice from Dr. Barya Emmanuel, a respected legal professional and entrepreneur, further encouraged the students to leverage their talents towards innovative solutions for climate resilience.

Moreover, the championship created networking opportunities between aspiring youth innovators and established professionals. This engagement resulted in collaborative projects aimed at developing local climate solutions. The youth were empowered not only to think critically about their environment but also to take actionable steps toward sustainability, thereby instilling a sense of responsibility and ownership over their future. The initiative marked a significant milestone in cultivating a new generation of climate-conscious leaders ready to combat the pressing environmental issues facing Uganda and beyond.

In 2025, we celebrate a decade of youth empowerment and sustainable development with the 4th edition of the Youth Debate and Literary Championship. This year's theme is "Propelling Social Justice, Quality Education, and Culture for Sustainable Development." The event aims to tackle pressing social justice issues in our communities while advocating for quality education and the promotion of cultural values, which are essential for sustainable development.

We have already moved even to the remotest places, crusading about the upcoming Championship of 2025, by reaching out in training and engaging thousands of youth in schools and Child Development Centres in the concept of Social justice, Quality Education, culture appreciation and the other Sustainable Development Goals through Debate, Poetry, Quiz, Writing, Music and Dance. Even in the holidays of December and January 2025, we kept on doing the same. This is mainly to prepare them technically and cognitively in advance, for this activity in the year 2025.

We acknowledge your role in building Uganda together with other stakeholder's dedication to fostering sustainable development through inclusive policies and programs that prioritize child and youth empowerment in Uganda. Indeed, the commitment to promoting quality education and cultural heritage plays a crucial role in enriching communities and empowering youth. Furthermore, various stakeholders, including government entities, local NGOs, and community leaders, contribute significantly to these efforts. Together, they champion initiatives that uphold human rights, enhance educational opportunities, and celebrate cultural diversity, paving the way towards a more equitable society, aligned with the objectives outlined in the Sustainable Development Goals.

In closing, Thenuel Debate and Literary Fronesis (TDELf) stands as a beacon of youth empowerment, championing socio-economic development through debate, literary arts, and human rights advocacy. Together, we purpose to inspire the next generation of leaders to advocate for positive change in their communities and beyond.

As we approach our 11th anniversary and the 5th Youth Debate and Literary Championship in 2026, we renew our commitment to fostering pan Africanism, patriotism, social justice, quality education, and cultural appreciation among youth.

With the support and partnership of partners and stakeholders like you, we aim to create transformative platforms that equip young minds with the skills needed to address pressing challenges.

Together, we purpose to inspire the next generation of leaders to advocate for positive change in their communities and beyond.

THANK YOU AND GOD BLESS YOU
